9780620524032	iThemba in Where There's Life There's Hope	FOU	Lulu & Tee	Chipembere Rhino Foundation	With rhino poaching a serious threat to our rhino populations (over 430 rhino were poached in South Africa alone in 2011), it is up to our two-ton heroine, iThemba, and her game-ranger friend Joe, to save her skin – and her horn – when poachers come calling. Kids will love how iThemba and Joe foiled the wicked horn hunters one dark night in an exciting tale which is loosely based on the real-life arrest of rhino poachers in the Kruger Park, and learning more about these magnificent creatures along the way. Where there is life, there is hope
9780620462648	Nicole in The Surf is my Turf	FOU	Lulu & Tee	Save our Seas Foundation	This title was commissioned by the Save our seas foundation to educate children about the Great White Shark, a truly magnificent creature, and its food chain. It is part of the "Rethink the Shark" campaign. This is a true story about Nicole, the Great White Shark which caused quite a stir after being tagged in South African waters, and then, to everyone's amazement, she was tracked swimming to Western Australia. The trip of more than 11 000 kilometres took only 99 days for this 3.8-metre shark. Remarkably, six months later she was observed back in South Africa.

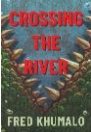

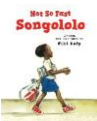

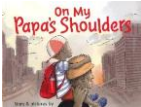

9780620650427	Owalla in Elephant Never Forgets	FOU	Lulu & Tee	Pilansberg Wildlife Trust	An elephant never forgets! In the case of Owalla, a circus elephant from the United States of America, the tricks she had learned in the circus ring saved her life in the South African wilds. Read the remarkable story of an elephant who went from the American circus to leading an elephant herd in the dusty bush veld, where she lived peacefully until one day she came to blows with a hippo. With elephant numbers in rapid decline, we need to protect these magnificent, intelligent and intuitive creatures. Journey with us to Africa and enjoy this wonderful tale.
